

CATE AGM: Report from TATE - CSSE 2020

Conference overview:

? active members (71 active members in 2019)

This year we had 38 submissions (40 submissions last year).

And, we were able to accommodate:

- 21 paper presentations (7 sessions)
- 1 symposium session
- 5 round-table presentations
- 1 poster presentation

Pre-conference:

The year our pre-conference session would have been on Technologies, Literacies and Education: Multiple Perspectives on Methods with Michelle Schira Hagerman: University of Ottawa, Pamela Beach: Queen's University, Megan Cotnam-Kappel: University of Ottawa, and Cristyne Hébert: University of Regina.

Special issue of the International Journal of E-Learning & Distance Education: Peer-Review Working Groups

We were also planning to have a peer-review working session for our Special issue of the International Journal of E-Learning & Distance Education. We have now moved this process online and hopefully the special issue will be published during the fall of 2020
